WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic campaign strategists said today their margin of Senate control is so great it is highly unlikely the Republicans could overturn it before 1963.

Good Omen Seen In Fast Comeback Of Stock Market

By WALTER BREDE JR.
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A widely fluctuating stock market produced a mild flurry of apprehension among U. S. businessmen this week but the general business recovery kept rolling right along.

The stock market, which reflects the way investors feel about business itself, finished the week with a strong upward kick after going down for its biggest loss in three years. Rightly or wrongly, many businessmen regard the fast comeback as a favorable omen.

Stock Sales Dip

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 16,941,099 shares compared to 20,714,010 shares in the previous week and 12,316,030 shares in the corresponding week last year.

Bond sales had a par value of $27,709,000 in the latest week, $32,286,000 last week, $20,699,000 in the same 1957 week.

Consumers paid little heed to the market's roller coaster antics. Spending in the nation's retail stores continued at a fast clip. Some merchants said customers were off to an earlier than usual start on their Christmas shopping.

Man Arrested In Orange Indicted On Murder Count

NEW YORK (AP) — John Gwynn, 27-year-old Manhattan resident who was arrested in Newburgh, N. Y., in connection with the killing here of Peter Morales, has been indicted for first-degree murder.

General Sessions Judge Charles Marks ordered Gwynn held without bail Friday after the indictment was handed down. Gwynn entered a mandatory plea of innocent.

Detectives said Gwynn followed the 47-year-old Morales Oct. 12, killed him with one shot, and was driven away by James King.

With Morales at the time was Albert Pernas, 26, the victim's brother-in-law. Pernas and King were held as material witnesses.

Gwynn was arrested 10 days ago. No date has been set for trial.

Asian Reds In Move to Test West

North Korea Seen New Trouble Spot

TOKYO (AP) — Asia's Communist leaders may be cooking up a new move to test the Western world's defenses and nerves.

The strategy may have been laid down in a series of conferences among Mao Tze-tung, Red China's boss, North Korea's Premier Kim Il Sung, and North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh.

Pledge 'Mutual Support'

Peiping radio has assigned the central role in the talks to Kim who visited for several days with Mao and other Red Chinese leaders in Wuhan and then journeyed to Viet Nam to meet Ho. The radio said "mutual support" was pledged "against U. S. imperialism."

There has been no other word on the purpose or results of the conferences.

But the emphasis on Kim added weight to speculation that if any new move is coming — following the quieting of the Quemoy situation — it might be from North Korea.

Even during the height of the Quemoy crisis, Red Chinese leaders and the Kremlin kept propaganda organs harping on Korea.

Called for Withdrawal

They called for withdrawal of U. S. troops from South Korea claiming all Red Chinese troops had pulled out from the North. They kept charging South Korean President Syngman Rhee with plotting aggression against the North at American instigation.

South Korean authorities Friday banned all public meetings, claiming they had uncovered a big North Korea subversion plot which they would soon disclose.

Some of Rhee's political opponents state, however, this was a cover to force through a bill giving police more power to kill off Rhee's political opposition.

Both the Soviet Union and Red China turned their diplomatic fire against use of American military bases in Japan against Red China.

A Soviet note, broadcast from Moscow, said Japan was risking involvement in a war. A Peiping broadcast was similar.

Full Total $123,333

The Red Feather campaign's over-all total stands at $122,383.20, or 95.1 per cent of its record-high goal of $128,651. Although the once-a-year campaign for 10 community services officially ended in October, additional pledges are being received at the Community Chest daily.

The Business and Industrial Division was the third division to achieve its quota in the campaign. Previously reported "over the top" were the Government Division, with $1,560.75 in pledges for 130 per cent of its $1,200 quota, and the Labor Participation Division, with $1,564 in pledges for 156.4 per cent of its $1,000 quota.

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk and William F. Edelmuth, both former mayors of Kingston, headed the government division. Co-chairmen in the Labor Participation Division were Mrs. Rita Baker, Stephen Gill, T. J. Liguore, Thomas Mitchell and George E. Yerry Jr.

Chest President Harold E. Keator Jr., said today that on the basis of information now in hand, "it is possible to predict a highly successful year for the Community Chest and its member agencies."

BERLIN (AP)—A Soviet spokesman said today the Kremlin's plan to make West Berlin a free, demilitarized city might be "expanded and changed" during negotiations with the Western powers.

The statement came amid Western suggestions that the Soviet drive to get the Allies out of West Berlin should be used as the basis for broad discussions of German reunification — the problem lying at the heart of the current crisis.

Sees No Rejection

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin indicated the Russians may take a flexible attitude during the six months of negotiations they have proclaimed before trying singlehandedly to end the four-power occupation of Berlin. He said he did not regard initial Western reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan as a rejection.

Lord Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin advised the Allies to deal with the problem of uniting Communist East Germany with free West Germany rather than just reacting to the Moscow plan.

Suggest New Talks

British diplomats in London also suggested yet another round of reunification talks, possibly by foreign ministers of the West and Russia or even by heads of government.

The subject probably was discussed in Bonn, the West German capital, where the three Western ambassadors were called to the Foreign Office. David K. E. Bruce of the United States, Sir Christopher Lloyd of Britain and Francois Seydoux of France conferred with Dep. Foreign Minister Hilger Van Schepenberg. Details were not revealed.

New Problem Seen

Bonn's opposition Socialist party said the Berlin crisis had opened the whole German problem. A spokesman in Bonn agreed with Brandt, a Socialist, that a broad Western response was needed.

Bruce and Seydoux will come to Berlin Sunday to talk with Brandt. Gen. H. I. Hodes, commander of the U. S. Army in Europe, arrived by special train today in what was called a routine visit to see a service football game, but he scheduled for Sunday one of his rare news conferences.

Brandt urged Friday night that the Western powers counter Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan to neutralize West Berlin in six months, with broad proposals on German unification. The West ought to act quickly because the

Guard Adds Three Units To 27th, Reshapes Others

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The New York National Guard moved ahead with its reorganization today, bringing three units into the 27th Armored Division and realigning several others.

The changes affect units in Rochester, Jamestown, Rome, Elmira, Auburn, Oneonta and Cortland.

Maj. Gen. Ronald C. Brock, the guard commander, said the reorganization follows a Pentagon request to reshape National Guard units to meet requirements of modern warfare.

Brock said that no armory in the state would be vacated by the reorganization and that no personnel would be dropped.

Brought into the division were: Units of the 71st Antiaircraft Battalion at Rochester, redesignated as Company C of the division's 27th Reconnaissance Battalion.

Units of the 101st Armored Cavalry at Rome, consolidated and redesignated as Company C of the 208th Tank Battalion.

Matches Red Claim Of ICBM

Cone Presumably In South Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Atlas missile was "successfully" test fired for the first time over the full intercontinental range" of about 6,300 miles Friday night, the Defense Department announced today.

The huge rocket was fired from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., range at 9:27 p. m. EST Friday night and soared over the Atlantic in a perfect flight. The Defense Department and Air Force waited until this morning to be absolutely certain before announcing results of the flight.

Near Ascension Island

Although the initial statement did not give details, the cone of the Atlas presumably fell in the south Atlantic Ocean near Ascension Island.

The statement said: "The Department of Defense has announced that the Atlas ICBM launched last night was successfully test fired for the first time over the full intercontinental range, a distance of approximately 5,500 nautical miles. (6,325 statute miles.)"

"The missile was fired over the Atlantic missile range from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 9:27 p. m. EST Friday.

Powered by 3 Engines

"The missile was powered by this significant flight by its three engine cluster.

"Prior successful firings, all at less than the full range, but employing all three engines were on Aug. 2, Aug. 28, Sept. 14, and Nov. 17.

"Last night's test came less than a year after the first successful flight of the Atlas, made last Dec. 17, when the test vehicle went slightly more than 500 miles."

Progress Is Charted

Electronic recording devices spotted on a number of islands and ships showed the progress of the missile over its range. Near Ascension Island, ships and aircraft on patrol watched for the impact of the nose cone.

The successful flight matched Russia's claim of possession of an intercontinental bombing missile. Russia is believed to have developed an operational ICBM and to have used it in launching the Sputniks.

Blast Dims Moon

The Atlas blasted off at 9:27 p. m. Friday night. Its exhaust flames cast a dazzling white light over the Florida coast, and for a moment it dimmed a great orange moon that hung nearly full over the firing range.

It appeared to be a perfect launching. "The Beast," as the Atlas is known, curved beautifully away on its thundering course toward the southeast and was in view four minutes before its fuel burned out and its light vanished high in the sky.

A few hours later, in San Diego, Calif., the Convair Division of the General Dynamics Corp.—builder of the Atlas—reported that the 100-ton missile flew the intercontinental range.

15th of Series

If so, this was the long-awaited climax of a test program that started in June 1957, when the first Atlas blew up soon after launching. The Atlas fired Friday

Rockefeller Sees Big Deficit, Hints Of Tax Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — The state may run a budget deficit of more than 200 million dollars next year, says Republican Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The situation "would seem to indicate more taxes," Rockefeller commented Friday, although he said it is too early to say where the money to meet the expected deficit would come from.

Rockefeller contends that the 1959 budget will be essentially the responsibility of the outgoing Democratic administration of Gov. Averell Harriman. The coming budget is currently under preparation by the Harriman administration, but Rockefeller will join in the budget talks next week.

The new governor said he and his aides will do their best to hold and remove waste in the '59 budget, "but we are not very hopeful it will be possible to any large extent."

Rockefeller also said he has appointed Roswell Buchanan Perkins, a 32-year-old New York lawyer, as his temporary counsel. Perkins will serve through the first legislative session.

The governor-elect discussed the budget with reporters after a conference with his new budget director, Dr. T. Norman Hurd.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

All day long the phone kept ringing in the Chico, Calif., home of William Gardenhire, a 71-year-old retired highway worker.

"Hello," the eager voice asked, "is this Santa Claus?"

Gardenhire wasn't Santa Claus, although he later wished he had been. Protesting to the telephone company, he learned that his wires had been crossed with a special Junior Chamber of Commerce connection set up to take Santa Claus calls from children.

Then Gardenhire began to think about his unique experience and what it had meant to him. In a letter to the Chico Enterprise Record, he wrote: "It has been many years since two little arms were around my neck and a trusting voice confided to me all the things he wanted me to get him for Christmas."

"If we as adults had a fraction of the faith in God as these children have in Santa Claus, there would never be any need for armies and navies and we would never fear H-bombs. I want to apologize to the children for not being Santa, but most of all I want to thank them for renewing my faith in God."

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL
THE SEARCH FOR EDEN

There was a farmer who had lived all of his life upon the square of land where he was born. He had grown tired of the place. There wasn't anything around but what had been the object of his merciless criticism. So he called in a realtor to list his farm for sale. The agent proceeded to prepare a flattering advertisement. Before he turned it over to the newspaper he called the farmer on the telephone to read it to him; mainly for the purpose of finding out if it met with his approval. "Wait a minute," said the farmer, "read that again slowly. I've changed my mind. I'm not gonna sell. All my life I've been looking for a place like that."

Most of us are situated far better than we realize. There is something about living daily with mercies which are constant and unending that causes cataracts to grow upon our eyes. We cannot see the forest for the trees. We look at others whom we think are singularly blessed; when all the time it may very well be that we are far more fortunate than they. The fellow with the farm was not aware of the virtues of the place he already owned until the agent shaped up his "pitch" to sell it to somebody else. Whatever wakes us up, so that we are made to realize the unspeakable merits of the blessings we already have, is always a tremendous asset in life.

A few years ago some writer suggested that we try to imagine what it would be like to lose everything we have and own. All gone—completely wiped out as by a tornado or a fire! Then, after a few hours or days in that "cleaned out" state, suppose everything was returned to us, just like we have it now; nothing altered, nothing added. How grateful we would be. We could cry tears of rejoicing to have it all back. Many of the mercies we are so prone to take for granted would become the objects of our wondering gaze and the subjects of our grateful prayers. If that be true, and I am sure it is, why can't we be grateful for their presence now?

It seems to be human nature always to be looking for Eden. And we search for it, prodded by the mistaken notion that it is over somebody else's fence, or in some spot other than where we are. Where's Eden, let Emily Dickinson answer: "Eden is that old fashioned house. We dwell in every day. Without suspecting our abode Until we drive away."

Mack, UAW Talks To Resume Today
NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for the Mack Truck Co. and the United Auto Workers recessed negotiations until late today in efforts to avert a strike.

Both sides continued talks part a strike deadline set for midnight Friday.

A company spokesman said all plants were operating normally on the midnight to 8 a. m. shift today. This is the last shift for the weekend, he said, with work resuming at 8 a. m. Monday.

A strike would affect about 8,000 workers at plants in Plainfield and Bridgewater Township, N. J., Cortland, N. Y., Allentown, Pa., and Sidney, Ohio.

Negotiations have been under way here for a week. Neither side has divulged the cause of the dispute other than to say it concerns "non-economic matters." They reached an agreement on wages Oct. 26, after a one-week strike.

Think It Through

HOW IT'S DONE

By daytime holdup, the Federal Government taxes away a quarter of all we make. But while we sleep, it steals still more from the dollars we have left.

It does this by inflation, which is actually concealed taxation.

MR. HUTTON

How does the Government cause inflation? Chiefly by unbalanced budgets and going deeper into debt. But why does Government debt make prices rise?

When Uncle borrows, that is, sells his bonds to the commercial banks, he creates more money just as certainly as if he printed it. This is called "moneyizing the debt."

Contrast this with private debt. A merchant may borrow 50,000 $'s from a bank to buy stock for his Christmas trade. This increases the money supply just as much as if Uncle had borrowed.

But there's a big difference. Except for an occasional bankruptcy, all private debts are paid off. When the merchant sells his goods, he goes to the bank, pays his debt, and this new 50,000 $'s of debt money disappears. It goes out of circulation.

But when Uncle spends more than he collects in taxes, — twelve billions this year, — and does not pay his debts, the new money is PERMANENTLY added to the money supply. That's inflation.

This excess money makes prices rise, dollars fall; and our life insurance, Government bonds, savings accounts, pensions and Social Security melt away.

The politicians who play down the importance of balanced budgets aren't your friends.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

A recent acquisition of the Kingston City Library is a rare and highly informative handbook on antique Oriental rugs (An-tique rugs of the Near East) by two of the world's most outstanding authorities in their field—the late Dr. Bode and Ernst Kuhnelt of Germany. This English edition was translated from German by Charles Grant Ellis of Kingston, who presented a copy of the book to the library.

This handbook has been the field of antique Oriental rugs ever since it was first written by the late Dr. Bode in 1902. Three further editions have been published in Germany under the supervision of Dr. Kuhnelt, who has rewritten and rearranged the text to some degree each time. The present book presents a very different appearance from that of the original issue.

The third edition was the first to be printed in English in 1922, having been translated by Dr. Riefstahl, a noted Orientalist. This has, of course, been sold out for years. The present translation is being distributed over the English speaking world through book dealers in London and New York. As a standard work in its field, it eventually should be found in every library which concerns itself with the field of Islamic art.

The book, a beautiful volume with excellent print on highly glazed paper, offers a wide range of types of Oriental rugs. It contains over a hundred illustrations of rugs, mostly of the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries, from such widely differing sources as Istanbul, Munich, Berlin, Vienna, Paris, the Metropolitan Museum of New York, the Victoria and Albert Museum of London and from some private collections.

Nearly all of the best examples of this class of rugs have been lost or destroyed; are in museums or hard to find private collections, which make a book of this kind of particular value.

There are carefully detailed descriptions of rugs from Turkey, the Caucasus, Egypt, Persia and India. There are Anatolian rugs, Holbein rugs, column, dragon, tree and garden rugs and vase and animal carpets, etc. These with descriptions of their outstanding characteristics, their origin and history constitute a bonanza for rug enthusiasts.

Mr. Ellis is a member of the Hajji Baba Club—a group devoted to the study of Mohammedan Art as shown by the work of master weavers of Oriental rugs. Mr. Ellis has given much study to the subject and has turned out a thoroughly creditable translation of a little understood art.

His gift is appreciated greatly by the library.

at that time is all that is required.

A Fourteen-Year-Old Best Man
Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married soon and, although he has many friends, he wants his fourteen-year-old brother to be best man. I think he is too young. What is your opinion?

Answer: Unless the boy looks several years older than he is, I agree with you he is too young.

Friends Who Don't Know Husband
Dear Mrs. Post: I belong to a bridge club and also to a woman's club. Many of the women who belong to these clubs are strangers to my husband, although friends of mine. I would like to know, when sending Christmas cards to them, do I include my husband's name along with mine when signing the cards, or do I sign them with my name alone?

Answer: Properly you would sign your name alone.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. The essentials for a hope chest include a list of linens and personal trousseau clothes for the bride and can be found in leaflet E-5, "The Bride's Trousseau." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

M-W-C Vols Get Report

Malden-Corners Traffic Signal Project Favored

Installation of a traffic signal light at the Malden Four Corners, about a mile north of Saugerties on Route 9W came closer to reality this week, according to a report from the State Traffic Commission.

The desirability of installing a signal to facilitate the movement of fire apparatus through the intersection when responding to alarms from Malden Firehouse located about 800 feet west of the corner was indicated in a field representative's report filed with the commission.

Vols Receive Letter
A letter reporting the field representative's investigation was received by Malden-West Camp Fire Company officials this week from Lloyd A. Maeder, director of the commission.

The fire company, long proponents of the project, sought installation of the light through a request to Supervisor Peter M. Williams who advised the commission of the hazardous condition at the intersection for both fire company volunteers and motorists.

The fire company requested that the light be provided with a manual operation device in order that a fire warden may operate the signal during an alarm of fire.

Maeder stated in his letter that "since the firehouse is not located on a state highway, the furnishing, installation, maintenance and operation of the signal would rest with local authority, in this case the Malden-West Camp Fire Company, in accordance with a permit issued by the commission."

Must File Permit
The letter to the volunteer company enclosed four copies of a permit application form to be signed by an official of the fire company and returned for processing. The permit will then be issued and forwarded to the fire company, the letter stated.

According to the letter, the commission's field representative contacted former fire chief Steven Musan who "expressed the opinion that signalization was unnecessary at the second firehouse maintained by the company in the vicinity of the Hamlet of West Camp."

The letter pointed out that two separate driveways at this firehouse provided favorable access to Route 9W.

Regarding the request of the fire company for firehouse warning signs to be posted on Route 9W, the letter advised the company of the proper procedure to obtain a permit from the State Department of Public Works for installation of the signs on the highway north and south of the fire stations.

Action on the installation of the traffic signal will be taken at the next regular meeting of the volunteers at Malden station, Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 8 p. m.

Matter of FACT
The crude New England shillings, about the size of a present-day quarter, were the first coins struck by the English colonists in America. Minted in 1652, they had the letter NE on one side and the value in pence in Roman numerals on the other. When dishonest persons started chipping the edges of the coins, their design was changed to include a circle of dots near the border. If dots were cut into, coins were not accepted.

Wiley Hails New Opportunities by Use of Seaway
MILWAUKEE (AP)—The penetration of the Great Lakes by the world's salt-water fleet via the St. Lawrence seaway will bring with it "international questions," Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) says.

In a speech Friday night, Wiley said these questions, wisely answered, "could lead us to unparalleled new opportunities."

"The seaway can be our symbolic pledge for world peace and expanded world trade," he said. "In a world of suspicion, tension and distrust, it can be a friendly gateway to the shipping and commerce of the world."

Wiley spoke before the Wisconsin Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, which awarded him its 1958 gold medal for good citizenship.

SHOP EARLY, MAIL EARLY

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk advises local residents to plan their Christmas card and gift mailing immediately. With an indicated record Christmas mailing this year, this would seem to be a timely warning to those who usually wait until the last minute.

The local postmaster points out that the biggest single factor in getting all mail delivered before Christmas is the full cooperation of the public in early mailing. Wrap them securely, address them correctly and mail them early are three simple rules advanced to insure delivery of gifts before Christmas. Patrons of the three post offices in Kingston may secure pamphlets which provide full information on proper packaging and wrapping of parcels for mailing.

This also is the time to make your selections of cards and gifts in local stores, which are well stocked now with the latest quality merchandise for the holiday season. After the cards and gifts have been purchased, there is the addressing of cards and wrapping of packages. If all the holiday shopping cannot be done right now, do as much as possible before the final hours. Don't wait until the very last minute to do all the shopping, wrapping and mailing. Much of the real enjoyment of shopping and sending gifts is lost if it is done in last-minute confusion.

BEGGING THE QUESTION

It seems rather pointless to debate which is the most responsible for auto accidents—the driver, the vehicle or the road. Obviously, there should be efforts to reduce the number of poor drivers and crack down on law violations. Obviously, too, roads and roadways need to be improved. But it also is obvious that if more safety engineering went into auto design the damage caused by poor drivers and poor road conditions would be lessened.

It is this that auto industry spokesmen tend to minimize. Naturally they are inclined to place heaviest blame on driver and road factors. When the talk comes around to vehicle safety, they often shift to the defensive.

They make all the well-established points—that autos are safer than in the past; that millions are being spent on safety research; that though changes cannot be made overnight the car of the future will be safer than ever; that if optional safety devices now available were put on all cars, the prices would be too high.

Though these points may be true, they beg the question. The manufacturers are improving auto safety; no one disputes that. But are they doing enough?

Much more is known about car safety than is now built into cars. Is it ridiculous to suggest that the auto makers spend less on style changes for a time and incorporate more safety engineering into their product? If they advertised safety factors as intensively as they now advertise styling and comfort, would the public boycott the new models? We think not. It might turn out that the public would prefer greater safety to more chrome and a dazzling new rear end upswEEP.

BUT IT'S COMING

To some it came gently—a little rain at first, a gradual falling of the temperature, a thin glaze of snow soon gone after the sun rose. To others it came with a vast rushing of wind that piled the snow in drifts man-deep and left a great quiet over the countryside.

Where the touch of it was light, the people smiled wryly at one another and nodded and said, "Well, that wasn't much; but there'll be more." From the Rockies to the plains states, where the buffeting power of it felt like the real thing and plenty to spare, there was astonishment, consternation: "Never saw so much snow this early! Figured a storm coming, but

"These Days"

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
RECOGNITION

The United States is now faced by two problems of recognition: the so-called Quemoy question arises out of the demand by Red China for recognition; the East Germany situation is a demand for recognition. It is not necessary for one state to recognize another. It is not necessary for one state to consult others concerning recognition of a new state or a new government. As Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes once said, "The question of the recognition of a foreign government is purely a domestic one for the United States."

The President of the United States usually recognizes a new state or a belligerent state. However, a treaty between the United States and any other state, new or old, must be ratified by the United States Senate.

The fact that the United States does not recognize a country does not mean that there is no intercourse between the two countries. The relations may be of a limited nature. For instance, the United States did not recognize Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933, but they had communications and there was commerce. The United States does not presently recognize Red China but has held long conferences with that country, one series at Panmunjom; another at Geneva. On the other hand, the United States never recognized or had communications with Manchukuo when Japan held that country or with East Germany which is a fief of Soviet Russia.

More recognition is a political act and often serves no other purpose than to strengthen the government in office. It does not spell out the details of relationships. That is usually done by a treaty which must be ratified by the Senate and is subject to public discussion in the Senate. There is no constitutional method by which the United States may have a secret treaty, although Franklin D. Roosevelt and his successors got around that by entering upon a series of Executive Agreements, some of which were of constitutional dubiousness. To correct this unfortunate habit of the Chief Executive, the Bricker amendment was proposed but it never reached consummation.

The general policy of the United States has been "to defer recognition of another executive in its place (i.e. the displaced government) until it shall appear that it is in possession of the machinery of the state, administering the government with the assent of the people thereof and without substantial resistance of its authority, and that it is in a position to fulfill all the international obligations and responsibilities incumbent upon a sovereign state under treaties and international law."

For instance, Red China's conduct during the Korean War would normally preclude recognition. However, the existence of the Soviet Universal State, the doubt as to the independence of Soviet satellites or associated states, the viciousness of Red China's propaganda against the United States, denies recognition under any circumstances. On the other hand, East Germany is regarded as a mere zion of Germany controlled by Soviet Russia by overwhelming force. The Soviet relationship with Germany is a violation of the Yalta and Potsdam agreements and can only be part of a general settlement of outstanding questions with Soviet Russia. The test of the validity of East Germany's claims would be a plebiscite, under United Nations control and management, to determine if there is popular support for this regime.

There is a great volume of history on the subject of recognition. The United States has not always been consistent in its policy nor does it indeed need to be. After all, a country pursues its own interests and serves its own purposes. Usually a country which seeks recognition holds out great promises, often of wonderful trade opportunities. These have been the tactics of Red China, but such promises usually are meaningless because the national income of the country does not warrant any such assumptions.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt recognized Soviet Russia by an exchange of letters with Maxim Litvinov, Minister of Foreign Affairs of that country. In the course of that exchange each country agreed not to interfere in the internal affairs of the other, a promise which Soviet Russia has consistently violated.

Although the President may recognize a country, he cannot appoint a minister or an ambassador without the consent of the Senate, and an appropriation from Congress, which factually means that recognition cannot be completed without the Congress. This always makes recognition a public and political question which often involves emotional responses.

Medical Hysteria Is More Than an Emotional Outburst

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Among the challenging mental disorders with which physicians are sometimes faced is a condition known as "hysteria."

It should not be confused with the same word when used in such familiar expressions as "don't be hysterical." The latter is usually used when a person becomes emotionally upset and gets into a laughing or crying fit or shows uncontrollable fits of rage.

Hysteria from the medical viewpoint is something quite different.

The patient with true hysteria has disturbances in sensation, perhaps convulsions, or is unable to move certain muscles. Such symptoms, however, are not caused by a recognizable disease of the nervous system like a brain tumor or polio.

In hysteria, an attack of convulsions may be started because of some emotional situation. The convulsions allow the victim of hysteria to escape from a difficult situation.

Of course, not all convulsions are caused by hysteria. They must be distinguished from the convulsions produced by epilepsy or from other nervous or mental conditions.

Loss of power and muscular movement or paralysis caused by hysteria may occur in almost any part of the body. It is important, but sometimes difficult to make a correct diagnosis.

In this form, as in other forms of hysteria, the probable cause is an unconscious attempt to develop an excuse for not facing a difficult situation. The problem which seems insurmountable to the person is "converted" into a physical symptom or disability.

The change in sensation often present in hysteria is particularly interesting. The ability of some part of the skin to "feel" is generally lost entirely. A pin can be stuck deep into that area without causing any pain. But the areas involved do not follow the course of the nerves exactly.

The treatment of symptoms of true hysteria is often difficult. The cause of the mental strain must be sought and studied. Gradual persuasion and re-education is helpful for some, but other methods must be used on many occasions.

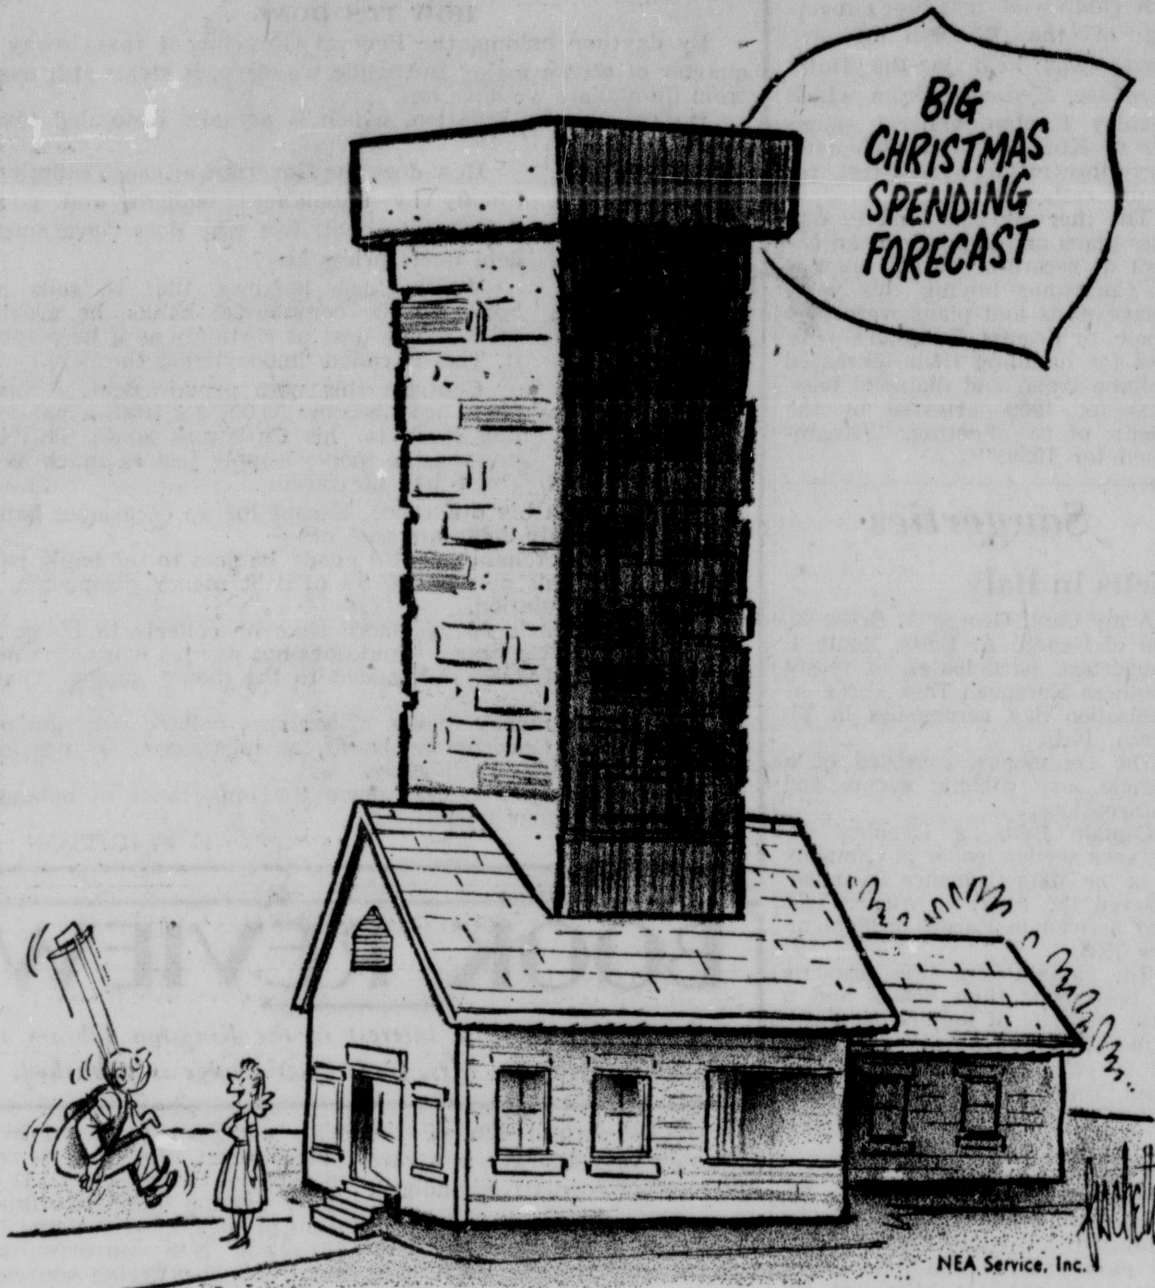

The successful treatment of hysteria is a challenging and difficult problem. Doubtless the newer methods available to psychiatrists are increasing the number of recoveries.

Like other mental disorders, the ultimate aim of research is to find out more about the causes of hysteria so that it can be prevented or treated promptly and effectively.

never this!" And then a rush to dig out, to get set for what might arrive with the next northwest.

To some it has not come at all, this first taste of winter. But come it will—and, more than likely, well before the calendar says: Dec. 21—Winter.

"I Knew the New Chimney Would Surprise You, Dear"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Those who remember the Hudson-Fulton celebration saw some of the magnificent floats. In New York City the principal event was Tuesday, Sept. 28, 1909 set apart for the historical float parade, this was under the direction of the historical and carnival parades committee. They went to no end of expenses to be accurate in their historical floats and also to present them with a great deal of showmanship.

They made arrangements with the Master of the Mardi Gras pageants in New Orleans, A. H. Stoddard Sept. 18, 1908, a whole year before the event. New Orleans is known as the Carnival City so they engaged Mr. Stoddard as captain of pageantry. On Jan. 20, 1909 the commission rented two frame buildings from the Erie Railroad Co. on the north side of 149th Street at the Harlem River in the Borough of the Bronx for a factory. They joined the buildings together and otherwise altered them for the workshop, forming one large building about 337 feet long and 117 feet wide, which they called, after the New Orleans custom, "the Den."

There Capt. Stoddard went to work with artists and artisans skilled by many years' work of this kind from New Orleans. They worked and instructed large number of local people in float-construction. At the height of this work in July, they had some 160 persons, men and women, including designers, modelers, papier mache workers, carpenters, constructors, painters, decorators, costume makers and watchmen.

First they chose a subject for each float and the historical and carnival committee worked on it with persons who did research in the history of the city and state. Then they submitted it to B. A. Wikstrom, the artist, who drew colored plates about 17 by 22 inches in size and these were again sometimes revised for accuracy of detail then they were finally turned over to the hands of the master-workmen at the "Den" (Mr. Wikstrom died in New York City April 26, 1909, after having completed substantially all the designs for the Historical Parade.)

These designs then were worked out in timber and covered with wire mesh. Upon this rude outline the stucco or papier mache was applied. The high parts were built up next, and the positions of the live or lay figures were accurately marked from the complete artist's design. In one large room three master modelers and a large corps of assistants, men and women, modeled the objects in plaster or clay, then covered with five or six layers of thin, tough paper pasted over it. When dry the papier mache was split in two, and the plaster cast removed, and the parts of papier mache mould were carefully joined and sewed with fine wire and place of opening covered with more layers of pasted paper. When finished and dried these papier mache figures were able to stand a remarkable amount of rough usage. They were then painted and ready for the floats. They had life-sized cow, horse, eagle and figures standing 18 feet high and measuring 15 feet from tip to toe for the some 104 floats which would not only appear in New York City but some of the cities along the Hudson whose streets were wide enough. I understand our streets in Kingston were not wide enough.

Remember Parents, Children Can Be Embarrassed, Too

It's just as easy for parents to embarrass their children as for children to embarrass their parents.

So remember: Not to call a small boy by an endearing name in front of his friends—if you don't want to make him squirm and wish you wouldn't.

Not to talk about how terrible today's teen-agers are in front of your own teen-ager and his contemporaries. You're not including them, of course, but they'll feel on the defensive just the same.

Not to repeat the confidences of your own friends. There's always the possibility they'll repeat what you've said to their children. The conversation may get back to your own child, and he will feel that you have betrayed his confidence.

To keep your voice low and quiet when you are correcting your child and the playmates he has brought home with him. Any child is embarrassed to have his mother scream or lose her temper or bawl out his friends.

To keep your promises to your child. After he has bragged that you are going to let him do a certain thing, he loses face if he has to say you've changed your mind. If you aren't sure in the first place, say so and give yourself time to make up your mind.

To refrain from discussing your child in front of him—whether you are talking about his good qualities or his failings. Either will embarrass him and you'll be lucky if he doesn't start in to show off or act rude and embarrass you.

Don't criticize your teen-ager in front of others. If you want to correct his grammar, his manners, or comment on the fact that he needs a hair cut get him alone to have your say.

Cancer Film Is Shown at Hurley Lions Meeting

The Hurley Lions Club was host to the Rondout Valley Lions Club Wednesday night at the SRS Home, Cottekill. Dr. Milton M. Grover of Kingston presented the film "The Other City" produced by the American Cancer Society.

In the film, the city of Racine, Wis., was pictured vacant with all activity stopped as a startling indication of the number of people who die of cancer each year in the United States. Some of the major danger signs of cancer were dramatized in the film. The seven danger signs are persistent skin sore which does not heal; prolonged monthly bleeding in women; mole or lump under the skin which does not go away; persistent cough; bleeding of the bowels; persistent hoarseness in the throat.

Heeding any one of the danger signals may save your life, Dr. Grover pointed out in his discussion following the film. He said that the most important word in cancer is "early." The most effective cure of cancer is to catch the disease at an early stage before it has spread too far in the body. The rate of cure for cancer has risen markedly in recent years for those cases diagnosed early, Dr. Grover said.

Although the seven danger signals do not necessarily mean cancer is present, it is still important that any unusual health condition be diagnosed early in order to insure a cure in case cancer is present, Dr. Grover said.

Douglas J. Masterson, Lions Club member and local educational chairman of the American Cancer Society, announced that the Ulster County Unit, with offices in the Turner Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, should be contacted by program chairmen of any organization for films or other educational material for organizational use.

Jurors to Meet On Monday Night

Further plans are expected to be made for the 25th anniversary dinner during the regular monthly meeting of the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County Monday night, Dec. 1, at the Court House.

President Thomas J. Murphy said today that preliminary plans were discussed during the November meeting.

He said the dinner, scheduled for sometime in 1959, will be held as an honor to one of the Association members.

Monday's meeting is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. and a full attendance of members is anticipated.

F & G Savings Bond Holders May Reinvest

All owners of Series F and G Savings Bonds today were reminded by William F. Edelmuth, chairman of Ulster County Savings Bonds Committee, that effective December 1, they can reinvest the proceeds of their bonds as they mature, in Series E and H Bonds without regard to the annual purchase limit of $10,000 maturity value for each series. This privilege also applies to holders of F's and G's which already have matured but have not been redeemed.

The reinvestment privilege, open to individuals and personal trust estates since September 1, is now extended to all holders of F's and G's, except commercial banks. The offer now applies to such groups, for example, as pension and retirement trusts, guardianships and similar estates, partnerships, public and private corporations, labor unions, fraternal, civic, service, patriotic, religious and veterans' organizations.

Holders of F and G bonds who wish to purchase the E and H series with the proceeds from their matured bonds can do so at any Federal Reserve Bank or branch or through their local bank. Series E or H Bonds so purchased will be dated as of the first day of the month in which the matured F's and G's are presented for payment. To preserve the continuity of their investment, holders are urged to present them for reinvestment during the month in which they mature.

"This broadened privilege is in response to requests from many investment groups which have not been able to purchase Savings Bonds since Series J and K bonds, which replaced F's and G's in 1952, were withdrawn from sale in 1957," Edelmuth said.

Series F and G bonds were issued beginning May 1, 1941 and matured beginning May 1, 1953. Their sale was discontinued in 1952. The Series E Bond yields 3 1/4 per cent interest compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity, 8 years and 11 months. The H Bond earns the same rate at maturity, 10 years but is a current income bond paying interest by treasury check twice a year.

Paint Jobs Made Easier

cleaned with denatured alcohol and not turpentine.

To prevent cracking or marring freshly decorated walls, hang pictures in their correct places before painting. Remove again to paint.

Before using, place can of varnish in a pan of hot water and it will be easier to apply. Better job results, too, if varnish is first warmed.

After sandpapering be sure all dust is entirely brushed off before applying finish. Use small paint brush to remove sanding dust as brush gets into small crevices effectively.

For that spot of paint that dried unnoticed on the carpeting, use ordinary medium-grade sandpaper to remove it. Rub gently.

Before applying finish to unpainted woods, wipe off smudge and finger marks with cloth dampened in lacquer thinner. Paint roller works efficiently when painting window screens, frame and all. Roller cuts working time in half and prevents clogged screen holes.

Natural moisture on your fingers contains acid which would quickly corrode your telephone were it not for the specially formulated chemical coating applied to it at the time of manufacture.

'Attleboro'... Is Spacious And Modern

Rooms Seven
Bedrooms Three
Closets Nine
Cubage

Main House 30,800 ft.
Garage 7,300 ft.
Dimensions 47' x 69'

The combination of a thoroughly modern, very attractive exterior and a carefully planned, spacious interior will make "The Attleboro" — today's presentation from the Home of the Week Plan Service — very popular with many prospective home builders.

Three well-ventilated bedrooms will also help to make this house plan a favorite choice. In these bedrooms — as is the case throughout the house — there is ample closet storage space. This storage space is conveniently placed, too.

With overall measurements of 47 by 69 feet, this house has a cubage of 30,800 feet. Cubage of the garage is 7,300 feet. You should have a lot of at least 70 feet frontage.

Large Window Areas

Plenty of large window areas seem to bring the outdoors right inside this house and greatly increase the interior appearance of spaciousness. The shape of the house lends itself perfectly to the inclusion of a large outside living room in the back yard. A terrace is suggested in the accompanying plan; this can be enlarged to include a fireplace and can be made just as attractive as you want to make it.

Because of its length, the kitchen is actually larger than it may look at first glance. Designed to contain a complete array of modern equipment, the kitchen also includes a comfortable large breakfast area. A back door provides easy access to the yard.

Both a dining room and living room are also included in this plan. The former is reached directly from the kitchen thus making it easy for the lady of the house to serve as many meals as she desires in the dining room.

Family Reading Center

Large and very pleasant — especially because of the large picture window in the front wall — the living room promises to be the most popular in the house. Built-in book shelves are suggested for the right wall where they would flank the fireplace. If you follow this suggestion you can transform the right section of the room into a family reading center.

Since no space is provided for a laundry in the house proper your laundry equipment — along with the heating plant — must be installed in the basement. Place your laundry under the kitchen or bathroom; the heating equipment should be installed under the living room.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Address requests (mentioning name of home desired) to Home of the Week Plan Service, Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

New Paltz Jaycees To Sponsor Essay Contest for Youth

An essay contest for high school senior with local, state, and national awards available to the winners was announced today by New Paltz Junior Chamber of Commerce, John H. Taylor, co-chairman.

The Jaycees are co-sponsoring the competition in cooperation with the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N. J.

The national contest called "My True Security," replaces the Jaycees annual "Voice of Democracy Contest."

The contest is open to all public high school seniors residing in the village or town of New Paltz. Miss Helen D. Johnson, teacher of citizenship education at New Paltz Central School will be available in the school for further information.

A film outlining the purposes and details of the contest will be shown in January by the Jaycees.

Entries may be secured by sending a post card to Box 421, New Paltz. Local clergymen have been invited to judge the contest.

Old Belt Will Prevent Dents From Hammer

To drive finishing nails without leaving hammer marks and dents on the wood, try this idea: After driving the nail partway in, slip an old leather belt down over it, so that the nail sticks up through one of the belt holes. Now, with the belt lying on the wood, you can drive the nail down almost flush with the wood, and the leather will protect the wood in case your hammer slips. Finally, remove the belt and finish the job with a nail set.

Ample Shelf Space Needed in the Kitchen

For adequate storage space, the kitchen should be planned to include a total of six square feet of shelf space for each member of the family, the National Institute of Wood Kitchen Cabinets advises. The use of revolving shelves in corner cabinets puts to use space which otherwise would be wasted.

Check the Joists

If you plan to add an extra bathroom, have a contractor check to be sure that the floor joists in the room are of sufficient size. As a rule, the joists under the bathrooms must be somewhat heavier than for other areas of the house.

How to Remove Broken Bulb

When a light bulb breaks, it's often hard to screw the jagged base out of the socket. A magazine suggests using an ordinary bar of soap to solve the problem. First make sure the electric current is turned off, then press the soap against the jagged edge. This will grip the base firmly enough so that you can turn it loose merely by turning the soap.

Seal Tells Quality

The familiar Seal of Approval of the American Wood Window Institute affixed to most windows of ponderosa pine guarantees that the window meets specifications of the U. S. Department of Commerce as published in the department's booklets on commercial standards.

Patching Scratches

A good way to patch scratches on both painted and natural finished surfaces is with an ordinary wax crayon of the right color and shade. A coat of wax over the crayon mark makes a pretty fair patch.

Test Ladder's Safety

To test the safety of a ladder, place it flat on the ground and walk on the rungs. This precaution may avoid a nasty fall.

Hardwood Floors In More Kitchens

Don't be surprised to find handsome hardwood floors in the kitchens of many new homes.

There's a trend toward such flooring in some sections, particularly in New England and other eastern areas, according to field reports from flooring manufacturers.

Contributing largely to the innovation, they explain, has been the development of improved lacquer-type finishes exceptionally resistant to water and grease spotting. Floors of fine oak or other good-looking hardwood, when protected with such finishes, render excellent kitchen service.

Windbreak Adds To Patio Comfort

Best idea for patio comfort is a wooden windbreak that can be moved when the direction of the wind changes.

It can be made of lightweight western red cedar lumber. It is actually a panel of one inch boards which can be woven in a pattern or made in a variety of ways.

At each corner of the bottom of the frame, a metal rod is attached which fits into pipes set around the edge of the patio.

When the wind changes or the sun moves, the screen can be lifted out of the pipe sockets, moved around, then set into other conveniently located pipes.

Tight Windows Save Heat, Reduce Drafts

Early fall is the time to check windows and exterior doors throughout a house to make sure they are functioning efficiently for the winter ahead.

A drafty house and high heating bills often can be traced to windows and doors which do not fit properly, or to faulty weatherstripping.

Old windows and doors can be replaced with units of ponderosa pine pre-fitted at the factory. These pass laboratory tests for tight fit and easy operation, and weatherstripping is precisely installed.

The clear ponderosa pine also is chemically treated to resist moisture and keep shrinking or swelling from causing trouble.

Match Cabinets With Wall Panels

For a pleasing overall appearance in a bathroom decorated with plastic-finished paneling on the walls, cover built-in cabinets with this same material. The predecorated hardboard is mounted to cabinet surfaces with contact cement. The paneling can be used by itself, without any backing, for small sliding doors. It is available at lumber yards in plain colors, woodgrains and marble patterns.

Caulking Helps To Preserve Homes

Caulking compounds play an important year-round part in preserving homes. In summer, caulking keeps out rain, dust and insects. In winter, a properly caulked home will conserve heat by keeping out cold air and destructive moisture.

Areas around doors and windows should be carefully caulked, as should be floor-wall junctions, wood column-floor junctions and parapet and roof joints, gaps between rough attic floors and chimneys, the apertures around electric conduits passing through floors and walls and the spaces around outlet boxes.

Make Stairways Safe

For safety around the home, stairways of more than three steps should be equipped with handrails. Install handrails on both sides of open stairs; at least one rail for a closed stairway. Railings should be strong and about 40 inches high.

Big Plane Makes Safe Landing on Blanket of Foam

BOSTON (AP)—A calm United Air Lines captain landed a big DC6 plane on a blanket of foam Friday night after circling Logan International Airport for an hour while his flight engineer manhandled the wheels into landing position.

The plane, en route from Chicago, skipped a scheduled landing at Hartford, Conn., when the hydraulic system operating the landing gear failed to function.

There were 41 aboard, including the crew of four with Capt. Loras Dietrich, 37, Winfield, Ill., in command.

He brought the four-engine plane down smoothly in a three-inch thick blanket of foam spread by emergency crews for a slide in case the plane made a belly landing.

Passengers agreed there was no panic or obvious fright in the passenger compartment.

In the plane Flight Engineer Raymond Hackett, Chicago, moved a mountain of baggage and ripped up floor boards to get into the hydraulic pit where the wheel machinery is located.

He said he found faulty wires caused the trouble, but didn't have the equipment to make repairs in the air.

"I switched onto manual operation," he said. "As we circled Logan I lowered the wheels manually, using my hands and feet to do so."

City Safe

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Before fleeing his burning Navy jet plane, Lt. (jg) Jon Parrish, 26, tried to head it away from populated areas. He was 10,000 feet above San Diego and the city looked "awfully big," he recalled. However, the jet cleared the area and crashed in a canyon. Parrish landed uninjured on a traffic freeway.

YOU'RE ENTIRELY WELCOME—Fairborn, Ohio, a town of 15,000 between Springfield and Dayton, has done away with straggling welcome signs from various clubs at the outskirts of the city. The Lions Club has erected a series of signs like the above which lump all the symbols together.

Educators Speak For P-TA Council At Panel Session

A panel of principals and teachers spoke at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Council early this week with Mrs. Marian Gregory, elementary school supervisor, as moderator.

The audience was particularly interested in the description of the advanced classes in the elementary schools. It was explained by Mrs. Dorothy Raichle, who teaches one of the two sixth grade advanced classes, that these classes try to "help the students do real thinking and analytical work."

These advanced classes use more difficult textbooks, supplemental material, make field trips, and in general go into the subject more deeply.

Describes MJM Classes

Levan Merriehew described the advanced classes in MJM Junior High School. Merriehew said that the objective of these classes is to "try to let the advanced child develop himself as much as possible for his own good as well as for the benefit of the community."

Mrs. Janice Gaines described the classes held for "trainable" children. These children may not be able to be educated in regular subjects such as reading, writing, and arithmetic, but can be helped to become members of the community within their limitations. Mrs. Gaines said that "it is important to train these children concerning the importance of safety instructions, fire drills, body coordination, and certain occupational skills."

Five classes for retarded children are held in the Kingston School System. Mrs. Norma Kidd described the difference between trainable and retarded children. She pointed out that these children "need a special program to realize the best in them and to bring it out. Standards of performance must suit their ability." She also said that "they are given instruction in reading, writing, and arithmetic but that it is desirable to break up their day with handicraft and exercise."

Miller Tells of Grouping

Clifford Miller, principal of the Kingston High School, described the various types of grouping used in the high school. As Miller pointed out, "grouping is not new, we had it even in the one room schools in the old days. Grouping aids the gifted and also the average learner."

In the high school, grouping is accomplished by the different curricula and also by grouping by sections within each grade level. The audience was interested to hear Miller state that "recent years have shown quite a trend toward Latin in the Kingston High School. It is becoming more popular with today's students."

Dow Purchasing Soviet Benzene Below U. S. Price

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dow Chemical Co. is buying about 54 million gallons of benzene from the Soviet government at a price well below the U. S. market average.

The company, announcing the agreement Friday, said it made the deal partly because of its "economic advantages." The reference apparently was to the reported purchase price of 24 or 25 cents a gallon. The current price of domestic benzene is 31 cents a gallon.

The contract, under which Dow will pay about 13½ million dollars to the Soviet government, appeared to be a major success by Russia in its attempt to penetrate the American market with raw materials at reduced prices.

The company also said another reason favoring the agreement was that the contract assured a dependable supply of benzene in the near future. In the past, Dow said, domestic supplies have been erratic and sometimes seriously inadequate.

Justice Frankfurter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mild heart disturbance has sent Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter to a hospital for rest and observation.

A brief announcement from his office Friday said the justice was resting comfortably, and that his doctors were pleased with his progress. He entered the hospital earlier in the week for a check on the heart disturbance, the statement said, after he had complained of not feeling well.

Frankfurter, who was 76 on Nov. 15, is the oldest of the court's nine members. He has held his post since Jan. 30, 1939.

Before vehicles of 1953 or earlier vintage may be licensed, an inspection of the vehicle must be had and an inspection certificate presented.

While vehicles of 1954 vintage may not operate legally on the highways after Dec. 31, 1958, without having an inspection certificate, no certificate of inspection will be required for 1954 or newer vehicles in order to have a tab issued. Under the law all vehicles five years or older must be inspected in order to be operated on the highways, thus it is wise to have a 1954 vehicle inspected now so that it may be legally operated on the highways after Dec. 31, 1958.

Deputy County Clerk Post also called attention to questions No. 13 and 14 on the application blanks. Both of these deal with the "financial security" (insurance) phase of the application. No. 13 must be answered in the affirmative in order that a renewal be issued without proof of financial security. No. 14, which deals with posted security or an unsatisfied judgment, must be answered in the negative in order that the renewal be granted.

St. Nicholas Will Ride Kingston Streets In Traditional Celebration Friday Night

The traditional ride of St. Nicholas will be staged again this year by Old Dutch Church.

St. Nicholas will ride up North Front Street next Friday at approximately 6:30 p. m., proceed down Crown to John, across to the 4th Century, the corner of Main and Wall Streets where the story will be enacted at the little Dutch House in the Old Dutch Churchyard.

In true tradition his small aide, Black Peter, will accompany him.

The real St. Nicholas, a renowned early Christian, lived a life not far removed from the true meaning of Christmas. A wealthy young man who lived in the 4th Century, he dedicated his life and fortune to the service of God and his fellowman. He was particularly devoted to the poor and the children. His generous gifts to them were usually made in secret.

St. Nicholas became Bishop of Myra, a port on the shores of the Mediterranean, directly north of the Holy Land. Tales of his saintly character were passed from generation to generation until he became the special protector and guardian of all children the world over.

Through the years and nations, his Dutch name of Sant Niklase became Bonhomme Noel, Knecht Clobes, Father Christmas and, of course, Santa Claus.

The church calendar remembers St. Nicholas on Dec. 6, the anniversary of his death. To perpetuate his memory, the festival of St. Nicholas' Eve is observed on that date. In most parts of Europe St. Nicholas' Eve is the time for fun and festivities while Christmas Eve and Day are given completely to religious observances.

The early American settlers maintained the custom of separating the religious and festive celebration. For many years the tradition was upheld by the Dutch settlers in the Hudson Valley.

TO AID AHRC DRIVE—Mrs. David Ennis, chairman of AHRC membership drive, and Mrs. Robert Mayers, institutions chairman, discuss the campaign which started today. (Freeman photo)

Mrs. David Ennis Accepts Chairmanship Of AHRC Membership Drive; Starts Today

Mrs. David Ennis of 86 Roosevelt Avenue has accepted the chairmanship of the annual membership drive for Ulster County Chapter, Association for the Help of Retarded Children. Mrs. Nicholas Sciorline of Highland, chapter president, made the announcement at a recent meeting of the group.

"I have accepted the chairmanship because I believe retarded children can be helped to lead useful, happy lives," Mrs. Ennis said. "In Ulster County we are fortunate in having our chapter of the Association actively working for the betterment of the welfare of these handicapped children."

The local chapter is a voluntary, parent-inspired association of individuals devoted to the problems of mental retardation, in the hope that each child may be given a chance to become as self-reliant as the degree of his handicap permits.

In her acceptance speech, Mrs. Ennis noted the rapid development and expansion of the county-wide AHRC program since its organization in 1956. Appeals for help from all sections of the county became so numerous that a volunteer group, through the assistance of civic-minded organizations and individuals, opened the AHRC Center at Professional Building, 86 Clinton Avenue in Kingston, last spring.

Recently Mrs. Clyde Snell of Kingston, joined the volunteer group as county secretary. She reports work at the AHRC Center extremely challenging and interesting.

A member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest, the AHRC serves all mentally handicapped who need help regardless of disability or age. Directing the overall program is a Board of Directors comprised of parents and lay persons. Presently serving are: Mrs. Sciorline,

Recommend Five Tested Winter Driving Rules

ALBANY — Five tested rules for safe winter driving were recommended to New York's five million car owners today by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly as heavy snows hit many parts of the state.

The rules, developed by safety experts in scientific driving research on winter road surfaces of all kinds, are designed to help drivers avoid hazardous skids and stalls.

They are:

- 1—Get the "feel" of the road. Try your brakes or gently press your accelerator while driving slowly and as traffic and highway conditions permit. Then adjust your speed to road and weather conditions.

- 2—Pump your brakes. The best technique for stopping on snow or ice while maintaining full control of your car is a fast up-and-down pumping of your brakes. Jamming and "freezing" on your brakes is almost certain to lock your wheels. This may throw your car into an uncontrollable and dangerous skid.

- 3—Use good tires and tire chains. Have good tires, preferably now tires, and use reinforced tire chains for more severe conditions. Remember worn tires or worn chains are not as effective. But—with snow tires, or even with the greater help of reinforced tire chains, slower than normal speed are a MUST on snow and ice.

- 4—Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the vehicle ahead so that you will have plenty of room to stop. It takes three to 1 times as far to stop on snow and ice as it does on dry pavement. You may find it hard to explain why you couldn't stop when the other fellow did.

- 5—Keep your windshield and windows clear. Be sure that your wiper blades, your heater, and your defroster are operating properly. Clean snow and ice from the windshield and from all windows of your car. Ventilate to keep the inside of your windows from fogging.

Former Mayor Dies

CHATEAUGAY, N. Y. (AP)—Henry A. Cook, former Republican mayor of this Franklin County village, died Friday at the age of 67. He served as mayor in the 1940s.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurtler, county director of Veterans' Service Agency, and Charles L. Culver, state veterans counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Loans—In areas where there are not enough direct loan funds to take care of the request for them, a waiting list is established and requests for such loans are numbered in the order in which they are received. Applicants are usually notified as to their position on the waiting list. They also receive priority according to their position on the list when more direct loan funds become available. Veterans are notified as soon as their number is reached and are sent a direct loan application form at that time. Although it is not possible to inform veterans when their name will be reached on a waiting list, they will be notified as soon as funds are available.

The Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program is notified at the same time veterans are notified of their position on the direct loan fund waiting list. The VHMCP will also contact veterans with an offer to try and locate a lender to make a loan to them insured by the Federal Housing Administration. To reduce the delay in obtaining a direct loan to a minimum, veterans may complete VA Form VB 4-1889, Request for Determination of Eligibility and Available Loan Guaranty Entitlement. The original discharge or separation papers from the veteran's most recent period of military service and any previously issued loan certificates of eligibility should be submitted with this form.

Bonus—Application forms for the Montana State Korean Bonus are now available. Payment of the bonus has been held up pending consideration by the Supreme Court of the State. The rate will be $15 a month to veterans who served in the Korean theater of war and $10 a month for those who served in other overseas theaters and the United States. American prisoners of war during the Korean conflict will be paid not less than $300. Moreover, survivors of servicemen who died in the line of duty will be paid a sum of $500. The top bonus payable will be $600. To be eligible for the bonus, a veteran must have served on active duty in the U. S. armed forces between January 25, 1950 and October 10, 1953, and must have been a resident of Montana at the time he entered the armed forces. Application forms may be obtained from the Adjusted Compensation Division, P. O. Box 612, Helena, Montana.

VA—The Insurance Service, District Office, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania will install huge electronic processing machines which are scheduled to be installed and in complete operation by July, 1959. Additionally, the departments of Medicine and Surgery and Veterans' Benefits plan to centralize their records and processing procedures with the electronic machines. The changeover to electronic equipment is in line with a plan to speed service and accuracy in payments to veterans and their dependents.

Armed Forces—The responsibility of the government under the Armed Forces Dependents Medical Care Act of 1956 for the civilian medical care of dependents ends when a serviceman dies, retires or is released from active duty.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency located at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Coast Guard Seeks 6-Month Duty Recruits

The Coast Guard Reserve is seeking applicants for six months active duty, from young men between 17 and 21 years of age, residing within a reasonable commuting distance of Poughkeepsie. Men who apply now for the six month active training duty program will commence active duty during January and February. The reservists will receive recruit training at the Coast Guard Receiving Center, Cape May, N. J., and advanced training at the Training Center, Groton, Conn.

High school seniors are also eligible for the six month program and will have active training duty deferred until after graduation.

The program affords young men of the area, the opportunity to fulfill military active duty obligation with a minimum of time spent away from home, and to complete the remainder of the obligation by affiliating with the Coast Guard reserve training unit which meets at the Naval Reserve Training Center at Poughkeepsie.

Applications are also being accepted for ex-servicemen and women for assignment to the reserve unit; those qualified will be enlisted in the rating or equivalent rating which they were last discharged. Reservists receive a full days pay for each drill attended and also receive retirement points, creditable for retirement under existing public laws. Recruiting service is afforded at the Poughkeepsie Post Office every Tuesday and Wednesday and on Tuesday evenings at the training center. For further information, contact the local Coast Guard recruiter, Aviation Machinist Mate, Robert F. Blackshaw, or the Albany Recruiting Station.

Murderer Given Freedom by Ave

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A 76-year-old murderer who begged Gov. Harriman to "let me go home to die" has won his freedom.

The governor Friday reduced to time served the prison sentence of Giuseppe DeMatteo of Brooklyn.

He was convicted of organizing a robbery attempt in 1921 that resulted in the death of a Brooklyn shoemaker. His sentence was death, later commuted to life imprisonment.

DeMatteo, in Sing Sing Prison, is previously ill with a stomach ailment and pneumonia.

Two months ago, he petitioned Harriman for his freedom.

"Let me go home to die," he wrote, "I want to die at home. I want to die in a bed in a house. I'm an old man. I won't do harm to nobody."

Harriman acted on the recommendation of the State Parole Board. The Sing Sing physician said DeMatteo needed stomach surgery.

DeMatteo will remain under parole supervision the rest of his life. His attorney has said he would live in Brooklyn with a grandson, Louis DeMatteo, 31.

DeMatteo has served 35 years, 6 months and 4 days of his sentence.

State DP Testifies In Trial of SS Guards

BONN, Germany (AP)—A survivor of the Sachsenhausen Concentration Camp now living in New York State is testifying in the murder trial of two SS guards.

Samuel Elperin, 69, of Lakewood, near Jamestown, told a German court Friday he saw Gustav Sorge and Wilhelm Schubert murder inmates of the Nazi camp.

The two are charged with mass murder.

Elperin said he saw Schubert shoot dead a Jewish prisoner. He said he saw Sorge compel a 75-year-old Jewish professor to skip through the camp for hours until he collapsed. Then Sorge beat him until he got to his feet again, Elperin said. The professor was found dead the next day.

Elperin also said he saw Sorge, for sport, force a group of prisoners to run through the camp and struck them with fists, kicks and a stick. At least 10 of them died.

On another occasion, Elperin said, he saw Sorge kill five inmates by the same method, by hitting them with a poker.

Schubert denied the allegations. But Sorge remarked laconically: "It could have been like that."

Couple Hurt in Crash

Rail Boost Is Effective Monday

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Coach and first-class fares on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad will go up five per cent Monday.

The State Public Service Commission authorized the increase Friday on trips within the state. The Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington gave similar approval on interstate trips.

Commuter fares, the bulk of the railroad's passenger business, are not affected.

The PSC said the higher intrastate fares were expected to produce about $60,000 a year for the railroad.

In seeking the higher intrastate fares, the railroad said it had lost money in every recent month through August 1958.

Under the new tariff, the railroad will raise its rate for coach travel from 4.102 cents to 4.307 cents a mile and the first-class fare from 5.469 to 5.742 cents a mile.

The Pennsylvania and the New York Central Railroads increased coach fares by 5 per cent and first-class fares by 15 per cent Nov. 1.

Catskill Rallies to Overcome Saugerties High School, 82 - 73

Loss Is Second In Two Starts For Sawyer Five

Billy Sims, a sophomore jumping jack, pumped 32 points through the hoop at Catskill last night to lead his teammates to a well earned 82-73 victory over luckless Saugerties. It was the second straight loss for Coach Bud Smith's cagers but much improvement over the first game was evident. The team shot much better than in the losing cause against Ontonagon.

The visitors jumped to a 17-11 first quarter lead and were never headed until seconds before the end of the third quarter, when a pair of quick baskets by Sims shoved Catskill into the lead. The final period was a nip and tuck affair until just before the end when Sims insured the verdict with several key baskets. He made 20 points in the second half.

The two Wolverens, Barry and Bob, did most of the scoring for the Sawyers. Barry blistered the cords for 12 field goals and five foul shots for 29 points in a superlative show. Bob had 21 markers. Ace rebounder Don Mormille did not play for the second straight contest. He is still nursing a hand injury suffered in football.

Saugerties won the jayvee contest, 24-22.

The boxscore:

Forst Keglers To Meet Rec Five

Kingston Forst Fiest keglers, in a three way tie for third place in the Hudson Valley Bowling league, entertained league leading Dutchess Recreation in a pivotal match tonight at Ferraro's. If the locals can sweep three games, the league race will be wide open since the Poughkeepsie team has only a five game bulge on the second place Ellenville Channel Masters and six games over Forst, Jones Dairy and Newburgh Charles Men's Shop.

Jones Dairy has a tough one tonight. The team is at Ellenville against the second place keglers. The other local team, Kingston Five, rolls at Middletown against the Merchants. Liberty Triangle Diner is at Orange Recreation of Walden and Charles Men's Shop rolls at Chaffee's Market of Walden in the other matches.

The Recs, who won the title last season, are pacing the circuit in everything after 11 weeks of rolling. Jake Charter, Dick Rhea and Phil Versace are one two-three in average. The Recs have the high home triple (3146), high home single (1106), high road triple (3077) and high road single (1060). Charter has a 707 triple and 278 single for the high individual home totals. Versace has whacked a 714 triple and 279 single for high individual road totals.

Television star Buster Ferraro heads the Kingston aggregation in average with a 196.17 mark. Tom Carlino has averaged 195.15 and Chris Gallo 195.8.

Bass Not Interested In Playing Pro Ball

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Dick Bass, the national titleholder in three departments of 1958 collegiate football statistics, says he is not interested right now in pro football offers.

The brilliant College of the Pacific halfback from Vallejo, Calif., reported he talked with officials of the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams but wanted to make it clear that he would be back with COP next season.

Bass, who has one more year of eligibility, captured the season record for rushing (1,361 yards - 25 carries), total offense (1,410 yards in 217 plays and points scored (116)).

Kingston's newest bowling idol carries a familiar name, but he is no overnight sensation.

Frank (Buster) Ferraro, who has thrilled Channel 6 audiences with two successive 700 triples in the weekly Sunday TV bowling show from Schenectady, matured in the traditional fashion of the tenpin greats who went on to enduring fame.

Buster has been bowling nine years (the last five "seriously," he says) but it took about five years of experimenting and a couple more of polishing rough spots, before he came into his own.

His 719 series in the TV opener, followed by a 733 blast last Sunday, thrust Buster into white spotlight of area tenpins. He comes by an old established name. His brother John is perhaps the greatest bowler ever developed in the Hudson valley. His nephew, Jackie, is one of the city's topnotch keglers.

Can Buster make it three 700s in succession Sunday at 1 p.m. Chances are he will. He has narrowed his equipment to a "semi-pin" grip, a medium hook, medium speed and an effective ¾ spinner. He was plagued by "tenpinitis" for many years but licked the old bugaboo as any man who averages 242 in six games before TV cameras must do. He has a smooth, flowing 4-step delivery, the hallmark of greatness.

Takes a Cue

There were times when Buster, taking a cue from brother John, drilled new grips endlessly. After the recent All Star eliminations, Ferraro drilled another new ball. He went poorly at first, then suddenly found the secret. He used the same span, but a better balanced ball. It has clicked beautifully.

Buster, who deserves national recognition on the TV lanes, is anxious—would consider any professional offer. The current Channel 6 program is scheduled for six weeks. If the option isn't picked up, it will die. If Buster keeps hitting at his current pace, we think the show will continue. Sponsors don't like to relinquish shows where a guy bats out 700 every week.

Ferraro earned his share of records and plaids before the TV series. His 748 in 1954 was the highest 3-game string in the city tournament. He won the doubles in 1954 and was a member of the Rheingold Beer Major League championship squad of 1956-57. He rolls in three leagues—the Hudson Valley, Ferraro Major and the crack Capital City Classic, where he carries a 200 average. He is hitting at a 196 clip in the HVBL and 192 in the Major.

Standings of the Pioneer Chalet Women's league at the end of the first round:

Team	Won	Lost
Chalet	25	11
Channel Masters	19	17
Snyder's Chicks	18½	17½
Grady's TV Service	18½	17½
Gilmartin Lunch	17	19
McCann's Gems	10	26

Top five keglers:

	Avg.
Helen Sutton	151
Habel Davis	144
Beverly Nicholas	144
Delores Bailey	143
Marge Neer	142

LAMOREAUX BROTHERS led the Pioneer Mixed League by a 2-game margin over Phil's Barber Shop at the end of first round action. Lamoreaux's won 21 and lost 12.

Nick Nagele paced the male keglers with 180-27 average for 33 games and Rose Schatzel's 178.8 for the same number of sets topped the distaff department.

Buster is victimized by a growing yen for golf. He has been pursuing par for about five years, got as low as 88 this year. Bowling is his No. 1 sport, of course but golf becomes a greater passion with each passing year.

Ferraro and his wife, Adeline, a 148-average bowler in her own right, reside at 24 Boulder Avenue in Kingston. They have two children—Danny (5) and Mark (2½). Adeline rolls in the Women's Junior Major and the Ferraro Women's league and as Buster puts it: "She takes the game more seriously than I do."

As you watch Buster this Sunday, you'll probably wonder how this young, handsome, photogenic man ever got the nickname of Buster. It started many years ago in the era of Buster Brown collars. Buster must have been something little extra in that style collar, because the nickname has endured through the years.

Mike DeJohn Unimpressive In Winning

BY MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike DeJohn says all he needs is action to make him a top contender for the heavyweight title. And he may get that soon.

The tall, lackadaisical Syracuse fighter squeezed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over stocky Willi Besmanoff Friday night that put him in line for two high level scraps.

Promoter Norm Rothschild wants to match him with Zora Foiley at Syracuse in January and the International Boxing Club offered him a shot at the winner of the Pat McMurry-Nino Valdes Dec. 19 fight at Madison Square Garden for February.

"I'll take them both if I can work it out," said the 6-3, 202½ pound DeJohn. "I know I need plenty of work to keep in top shape and give me the fighting edge I need. This fight with Besmanoff was only the fourth for me this year and the first since August 15 when I lost that split decision to Valdes."

"I think I can go all the way and make a lot of trouble for Patterson (heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson) if I ever got the chance."

No Ball of Fire

Mike, however, was no ball of fire against Besmanoff at the garden. Willi, who now fights out of Milwaukee, wasn't much to rave about either. Maybe it was their contrasting styles.

Short-armed Willi, 5-11 and 201 pounds, chased the angular DeJohn most of the 10 rounds but couldn't do much but belt to the body. Often he was low and he was warned several times by Referee Al Berl.

Berl had DeJohn ahead, 6-3-1 in rounds while the two judges, Jack Gordon and Leo Birbaum each had it 5-4-1 for DeJohn. The AP card had DeJohn in front, 5-4-1.

Baylor Finding Pro Game Easy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minneapolis' Elgin Baylor, a rookie in the National Basketball Assn., is finding the professional game very much similar to the college variety.

One of the most prolific scorers in the country last year as a collegian, the All-America has turned into one of the top point-getters in the pro league.

The former Seattle star Friday night scored 26 points as he led the Lakers to a 114-93 victory over Cincinnati. The output raised his league leading point total to 449, an average of almost 25 points a game.

In the only other game, Detroit defeated Syracuse 101-93.

The Lakers, hitting 51 per cent of their shots, coasted after compiling a 20-point lead in the second quarter.

Syracuse was in the game until the start of the last period at Detroit. Leading 75-72, the Nats were only able to score two field goals in the first 11 minutes of the quarter. The Pistons' Chuck Noble led the winners with 20 points.

Fights Last Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York — Mike De John, 202½, Syracuse, N.Y. outpointed Willi Besmanoff, 201, Milwaukee, 10.

Kanab, Utah — Lamar Clark, 182, West Jordan, Utah, knocked out Hal Crump, 194, Butte, Mont., 2.

Haughton actually broke the million dollar barrier in the first race when he drove Golden Way to second place and picked up $500. But before the night was over he won the third with Meadow Pet, the fourth with H. G. Creed, finished second to Speedy Pick with Belle Action in the $50,000 Eastern Championship pace, won the sixth with Sea Rover and the eighth with Smooth Sailing.

Although Belle Action lost by two lengths to Speedy Pick, Haughton had the satisfaction of seeing his 5-year-old mare become the leading money winning harness horse. Second place was worth $12,500 and boosted Belle Action's total earnings to $347,273. Adios Harry held the old record of $344,990.

Sixth Victory
Speedy Pick, the $3.50 favorite owned by the Blue Hen Stables of Dagsboro, Del., chalked up his sixth victory in 12 clashes with Belle Action this year as he finished two lengths in front of the mare from the stable of George Landers of Kittery, Maine. B'Have trailed by another 1½ lengths in third place.

The time of 2:10 1-5 for the 1-16 miles didn't approach the track record but was considered remarkable in view of the weather conditions. Speedy Pick will head for Pinehurst, N. C., for the winter while Belle Action will go to Orlando, Fla.

Cleveland to Meet Redskins In Crucial Football Contest

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

You National Football League Eastern Division clubs, particularly Washington, look out Sunday! The Brown gang — Cleveland, Paul and Jimmy — are on the prowl.

This trio, Jimmy the fullback who plays for Paul the coach of the Cleveland Browns, has set its sights on an eighth divisional title in nine years and plans to use the Washington Redskins as a springboard when they get together in Cleveland.

The Browns are a game ahead of the second-place New York Giants and must keep winning lest the Giants catch up before the two meet Dec. 14 in New York. Cleveland has a 7-2 record, New York 6-3.

Colts Seek Tie

The Baltimore Colts also have the same idea in the Western Division. They entertain the San Francisco 49ers in their season home finale and a victory would clinch at least a tie for the Western title.

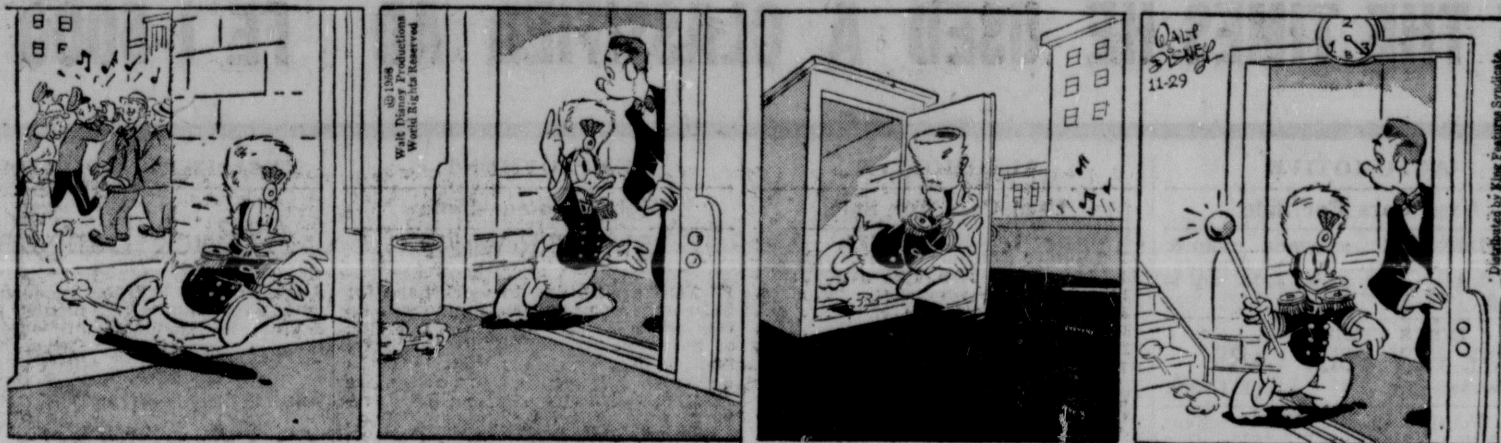

Baltimore, with a 8-1 record, can go a step further and grab all the marbles if the Chicago Bears, 6-3, fall before the Pittsburgh Steelers in Pittsburgh.

Los Angeles hopes to get back on the beam after a second half whipping last week by the Colts. The Cards, tied with the Eagles for the bottom of the Eastern Division with a 2-6-1 record, have only a tie to show in their last five games.

Have you heard about the visiting Texan who tipped a waiter $100?

Waiter (gasping)—I beg your pardon, sir. Do you realize how much you just gave me?

Texasan—That's to teach you a lesson, son. I didn't leave my usual tip because I wasn't too satisfied with your service.

Suitor—I'm not wealthy and I don't have a yacht and a convertible like Bill Green, but, darling, I love you.

Girl—I love you, too. But tell me more about Bill.

Teacher—Can you tell me where the Red Sea is located? Bobby—it's on the third line of my report card.

Friend—I caught your daughter kissing the iceman last night. Jerry—Oh my, wasting time on him when we owe the grocer all that money.

Doctor—Why, man, your ankle is broken. Why didn't you come to me a week ago?

Patient—Well, Doc, every time I say something is wrong with me, my wife declares I will have to stop smoking.

Jim—Never heard of it.

Friend—How about "Candlelight and Silver?"

Jim—No.

Friend—Well, what have you read?

Jim—Shure, and ye can see for yourself O've red hair!

A vicar in a small parish in Scotland was collecting subscriptions for the erection of a fence around the local cemetery. Everyone gave something with the exception of MacTavish. Later, the vicar asked why he refused.

TIZZY

By KATE OSANN

"Doesn't it smell marvelous? I put some of your pipe tobacco in it!"

"We'l," replied Mac, "I don't see any use in a fence around a cemetery. Those that are in there can't get out, and them what's out sure don't want to get in."

As he walked lightly along the sidewalk, whistling a gay tune, one could plainly see that all was well in his private little world.

He was clean-shaven, immaculately dressed, and there was the old love light in his eye. And for good reason. For, in his vest pocket near his heart was a little note which read: Dearest, I live only for you; love only you; and will marry only you; whenever you say.

LONDON (AP)—A London bakery put the finishing touches to a surprise birthday cake for a distinguished gentleman today.

The design of the creation was kept a closely guarded secret—just as it has been for Sir Winston Churchill's last 20 birthdays.

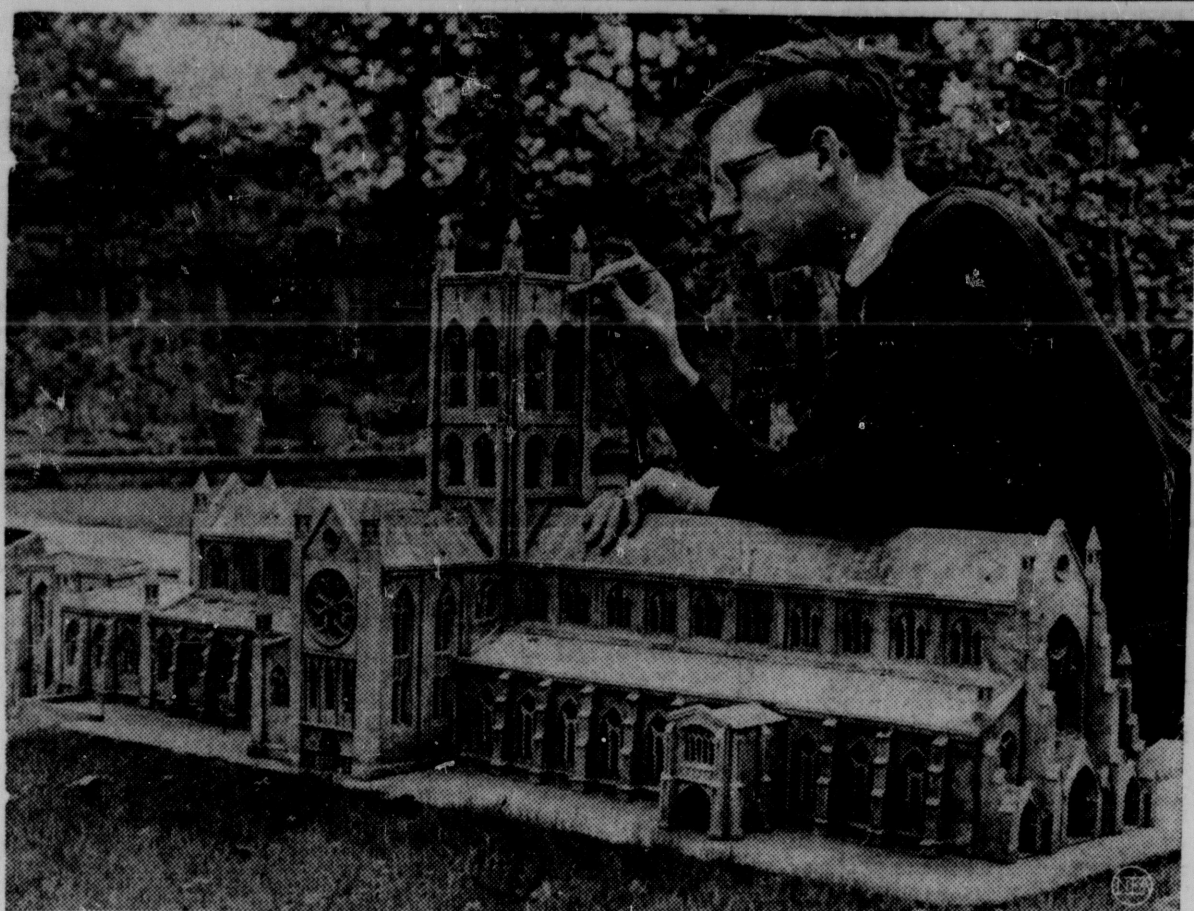

This year's cake for Britain's wartime leader, who celebrates his 84th birthday Sunday, is different from all the rest, according to intelligence leaks.

It will be unveiled at a family tea party at Chartwell, Churchill's country home in Kent.

MODEL CHURCH MEMBER—Determined to add a cathedral to his home town of Hatch End, Middlesex, England, 24-year-old Brian Ferris works on his miniature masterpiece. He has already spent more than five years on the model, which is made of concrete blocks, with copper roofs and wooden pinnacles. It is six feet long, with a two-foot-high steeple, and is as carefully detailed inside as out.

Privately Though

Ike Is Rooting

For Cadets in

Big Game Today

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower, a football player years ago at West Point, is pulling privately for Army to beat Navy today.

He is doing his rooting privately because as president he also is commander in chief of all the armed forces—and as such maintains an official neutrality.

May Watch Game on TV

Eisenhower hasn't attended an Army-Navy varsity game since he became president because, friends say, he feels sure he would forget about impartiality and cheer for his alma mater.

The President may watch today's game at Philadelphia on television—in the comfort of his vacation residence at the Augusta National Golf Club. Or he might pass up the game in favor of a round of golf—as he has done in some other years.

In his student days Eisenhower was a promising halfback until he injured his knee in 1912, his second year at West Point. That injury—which still bothers him occasionally—ended his gridiron career.

Plans Easy Day

The President planned to take it generally easy today, with one major business conference just behind him and another coming up Sunday.

He met all morning Friday with top Pentagon and Budget Bureau officials on planning defense spending for the fiscal year starting July 1.

After that session Secretary of Defense McElroy left open the possibility military expenditures will run a billion dollars more in that year than the estimated $40,800,000,000 this year.

Sunday the President will confer here with Secretary of State Dulles. They will discuss the Berlin picture and other international problems.

Chest Will Hold

set, it appears almost a certainty now that the member agencies will receive in 1959 the entire amounts approved for them by the Board of Directors upon recommendation of the Budget Committee—and that in the final analysis is the purpose of the Red Feather Campaign.

Keator noted that the Community Chest is currently raising for its member agencies nearly twice as much, on the average, as these agencies raised five years ago in their separate fund appeals, and that for the past two years the Chest has been able to allocate 100 per cent of the amounts approved for the agencies on recommendation of the budget committee.

"General Chairman Kalish and all the members of his team are to be highly complimented on a job well done," Keator said, pointing out that the goal was the highest in the Chest's history, some 20 per cent higher than last year's total amount raised.

More Coming In

"While we are still about $6,000 short of our goal, we are assured of several thousand still to come in," Keator said. "In addition, the excellent record of contributors in meeting their pledges over the past three years may make it possible for us to re-compute the shrinkage allowance factor, reducing the requirement figure by approximately $1,200. Interest income from funds already received and left on deposit in local savings banks and savings and loan institutions until needed will bring an additional $800 or more; and there may also be some budgetary savings from this year's operation to pass along to next year."

Praises Kalish, Others

"General Chairman Kalish and all the members of his team are to be highly complimented on a job well done," Keator said, pointing out that the goal was the highest in the Chest's history, some 20 per cent higher than last year's total amount raised.

Mrs. J. H. Alexander went to Homer Friday to remain for the weekend. Mrs. Alexander was a holiday dinner guest of Miss Lillian Johnson.

Winnie 84 Sunday

LONDON (AP)—A London bakery put the finishing touches to a surprise birthday cake for a distinguished gentleman today.

The design of the creation was kept a closely guarded secret—just as it has been for Sir Winston Churchill's last 20 birthdays.

This year's cake for Britain's wartime leader, who celebrates his 84th birthday Sunday, is different from all the rest, according to intelligence leaks.

It will be unveiled at a family tea party at Chartwell, Churchill's country home in Kent.

The head of the nation's largest nor-food retailing enterprise, Chairman Fowler B. McConnell of Sears, Roebuck & Co., said sales and profits of the big chain are on the upbeat, and when all the figures are in, 1958 should turn out to be a better year than 1957.

See No Letdown

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers' Assn. said producers of stoves, furnaces, dryers and other gas-fueled home appliances have just recorded their best month in more than two years and see no signs of letdown.

Looking ahead to 1959, a panel of 109 corporate presidents polled by Dun & Bradstreet predicted a continuing upturn in business, but no boom. Consensus of the corporate elite: the recovery from recession will continue next year, but the rate of climb may not be quite as steep.

Home building—and construction generally—continued strong. F. W. Dodge Corp. was reported ready to release figures showing dollar volume of contracts awarded in October for future construction up sharply from a year ago.

Business in Brief

Briefly over the business scene: Living costs, as measured by the U. S. Department of Labor, held steady in October for the third straight month—at 123.7 per cent of the 1947-48 average. Two major retail trade groups, the National Retail Merchants Assn. and the Variety Stores Assn. which together represent nearly 20,000 stores in 48 states, urged merchants to remain closed on Sundays. Said George W. Dowdy of Charlotte, N. C., NRMA president: "Most Americans, churchgoers or not, regard Sunday as a traditional day of rest and relaxation x x x. The forward-thinking retailer recognizes that Sunday openings make no contribution to the good name of retailing."

A six per cent increase in passenger fares Dec. 1 seems assured for Greyhound, Trailways and other interstate bus lines on routes east of the Mississippi River. Developed by Burlington House Fabrics Co., the drapes can be put through a full cycle in a home washing machine and hung back in the window without ironing.

Atlas Shot Covers

night was the 15th test vehicle in the series.

The first eight used only the twin-chambered booster engine in the tail. Four of these flew successfully over 600-mile ranges. The others exploded in tests of guidance and strength.

Since then, Atlas missiles have been powered by the booster engine, a sustainer engine and two Vernier engines mounted to the outer shell to control the roll of the 85-foot long weapon.

First Blew Up

The first of these fully powered Atlases blew up 45 seconds after launching. The next three flew successfully over 3,000-mile ranges. The next—the first one aimed at intercontinental range—exploded 80 seconds after liftoff.

Another performed well over a 3,000-mile range, setting the stage for Friday night's second attempt to send an Atlas all the way.

"There are no fundamental question marks left in the Atlas program," a statement issued by Convair said.

J. V. Naish, president of the General Dynamics Corp. division which builds the Atlas, declared: "We are now entering upon the last phase—the implementation of the Atlas as a potent deterrent force of the Strategic Air Command."

Sees More Flights

Naish said this will mean "more test flights, the training of Air Force crews in the techniques of quick launching of the missile and the development of launching sites for the Strategic Air Command."

"But more than this," he said, the flight "clearly demonstrates the Atlas' potential for employment in the peaceful development of scientific vehicles for the exploration of space."

Son Is Held

Family of Three

Gunned to Death

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A telephone call summoned sheriff's deputies to a suburban home shortly after midnight Friday night where they found a family shot to death.

Found were the bodies of William L. Andrews, 38; his wife, Opal, 41, and a daughter, Jennie Marie, 20. All had been shot with a .22 caliber rifle.

Undersheriff Al Sachse said a son, Lowell Lee Andrews, 18, a University of Kansas student, was being held after orally admitting the shootings.

He told officers he did not know why he did it, Sachse said. It was young Andrews who telephoned them to the scene, and was waiting when they got there.

Young Andrews told officers he had tossed the weapons in the Kaw River near Lawrence, Sachse said.

The coroner's office fixed the time of death around 7 p.m. Friday.

The elder Andrews was a Trans World Airlines mechanic on strike along with other members of the Machinists Union as a result of contract differences.

No charges were filed immediately.

Democrats See

years been considered safely Republican.

See Chance in Kentucky

The Democrats elected governors in all four of these states this year and also captured several congressional seats. But all eight of the senators from the four now are Republicans. Only in Nebraska, where Sen. Roman L. Hruska won re-election, was a Senate seat at stake this year.

The Democratic strategists also say they should have a good chance to unseat GOP senators in Kentucky, a border state usually Democratic but now with two Republican senators, and New Jersey, which has a Democratic governor and one Democratic senator.

Aside from Mrs. Smith, these are the Republicans whose terms expire in 1961: Sens. Gordon Allott (Colo.), Styles Bridges (N.H.), Clifford P. Case (N.J.), John S. Cooper (Ky.), Carl T. Curtis (Neb.), Henry C. Dworshak (Idaho), Thomas E. Maricle (Iowa), Karl E. Mundt (SD), Leveitt Saltonstall (Mass) and Andrew F. Schoepel (Kan.).

Red Press Raps Tito

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Soviet newspapers took a backhand slap at President Tito today in making a direct plea to the Yugoslav people for better relations between the two countries.

Pravda and Izvestia made no mention of Tito in messages of greeting to the Yugoslav people on the 13th anniversary of the founding of the Yugoslav Communist Republic.

Instead both newspapers denounced revisionists—those accused by Moscow of attempting to split the communist bloc by refusing to toe the Kremlin line. Tito is regarded by communists outside Yugoslavia as a leading apostle of revisionism.

Modena

MODENA—Mrs. James Moran, of Gardiner, chairman of the newspaper collection drive sponsored by the members of the Mothers Guild of St. Joseph's Parochial School, New Paltz, has asked residents of the area to assist in the campaign now underway. Mrs. Moran suggests that newspapers be bundled, mailed for "Mothers Guild, New Paltz," and if and when sufficient amounts are collected a truck will be provided for removal. The campaign ends in February. Local members of the Guild include Mrs. Norman Reilly, Mrs. Harry Denton and Mrs. Raymond Burch.

Students of Walkkill Central School have been working on a project supplying histories of the locality in which they resided. In compiling notes for the articles, mention is made in the history of Modena, of an Indian dam, located southeast of Modena, which is incomplete in information. Anyone having information on this may call Miss Glennie M. Wager.

Mrs. Oscar R. Smith, Miss Marguerite A. Smith and Miss Glennie Wager were in Maybrook Tuesday.

Mrs. Max Meyer's sister, who has been spending the past weeks here, will return to her home in Germany, this week.

John Naurer of Canajoharie, formerly of Modena and New Paltz, called on friends here Saturday.

Twenty years ago, Thanksgiving Day is recalled as a day of sleet and snow, the latter lasting well into spring. It is recalled also, that the late Frank Toohey, a resident of the Gardiner section, while going from his sister's home to his own, was lost in the storm, and the body was not recovered until the spring thaws revealed it.

Among the nine students of the Pine Bush Central School, chosen to appear on the All State Sectional Musical Program at the Ellenville High School, Saturday evening, was Jean Couch, (clarinet) who is a granddaughter, and the late Mrs. Venable, former residents of Modena.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Voss have closed their cottage in Phoenixia, and will spend the winter season in Bradentown, Fla.

Dr. Voss is well known here, having practiced medicine in Gardiner and surrounding communities for many years.

The next meeting of Modena Rod and Gun Club will be Friday evening, Dec. 12, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Oliver C. DuBois, the oldest resident of this community, is a patient at New Paltz Nursing Home, Jansen Road, New Paltz.

The nephews of Michael Lembo, who arrived from Europe early in November, are remaining here, with their families, and the children have entered the local schools.

Mrs. William Decker and Mrs. Merrill E. Small Sr., were shoppers in Walden, Tuesday.

Largest Unmanned

Balloon Is Sent Aloft

TILLAMOOK, Ore. (AP)—A huge plastic balloon—described as the largest ever sent aloft—soared through the stratosphere over western Oregon today gathering cosmic ray data.

The spheroid was released here Friday by a five-man team from General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis to study cosmic data for the Navy. It is unmanned.

A member of the launching crew, Tom Pawpas, said larger balloons have been built, but this is the biggest to be sent up. He said it was floating smoothly at an altitude of 25 miles.

The bag is 305 feet long and 223 feet in diameter. It was filled with more than four-million cubic feet of helium and carried 250 pounds of instruments.

Robbers Help Victim, Take Off With Valuables

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A businessman says two robbers who held him up in his home may have saved his life with an act of mercy.

Ray Bloch, 57, told police the robbers stopped long enough to give him medicine when he suffered a mild heart attack, then fled with $4,000 in jewelry and cash.

Bloch, owner of a coal and coke company said the men, pretending to deliver a package, forced their way into his home Friday when he was alone.

He said he suffered the attack when they tied him and left him on the floor of
